Bodegas Marichal

Global Vineyard was founded in 2001 with a vision to import some of the very best artisan and estate wines from Chile, Argentina and Uruguay. Our small production wineries are family-owned, often for generations, and emphasize the diverse and growing regionality of South American grape growing. It is an exciting time to be making wine in South America.

Our close relationships with the producers and vineyards give us a unique opportunity to introduce you to these exciting wineries and their wines, with both mainstream varieties such as Cabernet Sauvignon and Sauvignon Blanc, but also more cutting edge wines including Cabernet Franc, Carignan, Carmenera as well as organic and biodynamic red blends. We import some of the top wines produced there, with many consistently earning 90+ scores each vintage.

At Global Vineyard Importers, we pride ourselves on being one of the leaders in the South American category with national distribution in almost every US state, selling wines of tremendous quality and value.

VIÑA MAQUIS

COLCHAGUA VALLEY, CHILE

Maquis produces single-vineyard wines with a sense of place. Ricardo Rivadeneira and Rodrigo Romero make wines that reflect the extraordinary character of the unique Colchagua Valley soil with guidance from viticulturist Xavier Choné, a leading authority on terroir who consults with just a handful of elite wineries including Opus One. Consulting on the Maquis blends is the legendary Eric Boissenot, named one of the top winemakers in the world by Decanter Magazine.

The vineyards are literally located on an island (see booklet cover), surrounded by ancient waterways that once carried alluvial sediments from the Andes mountains into present day Colchagua Valley. Today, they act as pathways for cool coastal breezes that help moderate the warm Colchagua summers. This combination of climate and geography produce significant wines that are rich yet exhibit excellent structure, elegance and length.

CALCV

COLCHAGUA VALLEY, CHILE

Calcu Cabernet Sauvignon: "A serious, ripe and fresh, balanced and restrained Cabernet, with aromas of black fruit; noticeable spiciness." -Robert Parker's Wine Advocate

Rodrigo Romero is the winemaker of an exciting line of small production wines made for everyday drinking but far more interesting and distinctive than most in its category. Calcu, which means "magician" in the local Mapuche language, was created to emphasize the diversity of Chile's Colchagua Valley. The fruit is always a combination of the family's estate fruit, and locally sourced, sustainable grapes from quality Colchagua growers.

REGIONAL CHILEAN WINES

Apaltagua's 65-year-old vineyards are located in some of the most prestigious appellations of Chile. The winery is located in the renowned Apalta region of the Colchagua Valley, famous for producing some of the top-rated wines made from Carménère, Malbec and Cabernet Sauvignon. Apaltagua wines are crafted by winemaker Pablo Barros and consulting winemaker Alvaro Espinoza, one of the country's foremost winemakers and the pioneer of biodynamic wines in Chile.

Global Vineyard Importers

CHILE

Viña Gillmore began with a dream. In the late 1980s, Chilean visionary Francisco Gillmore took over operation of the century old Tabontinaja winery and its ancient dry-farmed vineyards planted to the rustic País variety. He took advantage of their healthy, hearty roots and grafted them with fine French varieties. From the beginning his wines were imbued with the spirit of this unique dry-farmed condition of restriction and resistance in which their rustic personality was expressed with vibrant acidity and tremendous character.

The project also includes his daughter, Daniella Gillmore, whose love of the country life guides her in overseeing the vineyards and the collection of native fauna on the farm. Andrés Sánchez is her husband and talented winemaker behind the Vigno and Mariposa wines which are crafted to interpret the soul of the Maule Valley.

Gillmore is among the founding members of MOVI (Independent Vintner's Movement), and Andrés was the driving force behind the recently formed Carignan club (Vigno).

2011 Domus Aurea- 96 points, "Herbal, minty notes and red-fruit character of the site are accentuated, with vivid aromas, earthy notes. This Cabernet imposes its finesse with the fine point of delicate tannins." -Wine & Spirits

DOMUS AUREA

MAIPO VALLEY

Viña Quebrada de Macul, the Domus Aurea and Peñalolen winery, is recognized as one of the finest vineyards in the Maipo Valley. On the gravelly slopes of their 75-year old vineyard, owners Ricardo and Isabel Peña and winemaker Jean-Pascal Lacaze produce their award-winning Cabernet Sauvignon, Domus Aurea. Committed to extremely low yields, their vineyards are divided into five blocks that follow the depth and stoniness of the soil, which are further divided into upper, middle and lower rows. The harvest is not determined by block or row, but vine by vine. The winery utilizes open-top fermentation and personalized oak aging cycles, selecting lots with the most character to be the first wines into French barrels.

- Domus Aurea Cabernet Sauvignon
(85% Cabernet Sauvignon, 7% Merlot, 4% Cabernet Franc, and 4% Petit Verdot)

PEÑALOLEN Maipo Valley

Peñalolén is focused on producing unique Chilean wines, full of personality and verve and early accessibility. The operation is managed by talented winemaker Jean-Pascal Lacaze, well respected for his deft hand in producing memorable Bordeaux influenced wines. Peñalolén truly is a family-owned, boutique winery committed to making wines of distinction.

- Peñalolen Cabernet Sauvignon

ANKA ORGANIC RED WINE of the Maipo Valley

Anka is the certified organic wine project from the Domus Aurea winery. Winemaker Jean Pascal Lacaze believes that wine is only as good as the grapes from which it is made. In the Maipo Valley, Lacaze tends to his vineyards sustainably and organically. He uses pristine fruit and ages the wine in individually selected barrels and then blends the juice right before bottling.

ESCARLATA

Red Blend Category: Silver Medal -Critics Challenge International Wine and Spirits Competition 2016

COLCHAGUA VALLEY, CHILE

Escarlata is a red blend produced from 100% estate fruit in the Colchagua Valley.

Escarlata means “scarlet” for the deep, brilliant red hue. Escarlata is a blend of estate grapes (30% Cabernet Sauvignon, 30% Syrah, 20% Carmenere and 20% Malbec) grown in the prestigious Colchagua Valley and displays vibrant fresh fruit with just a light touch of oak to add depth and complexity. The winemaker has crafted Escarlata to be equally enjoyed with a casual dinner or just to sip on its own.

ALBAMAR

Albamar Sauvignon Blanc was a GOLD MEDAL winner the Sunset Magazine wine competition.

Casablanca Valley

William Cole is located deep within Chile’s prestigious Casablanca Valley, the area is often referred to as “Chile’s Burgundy.” This cool climate vineyard near the coast, which is comprised of over 129 contiguous hectares, provides a long, warm growing season with cool nights to develop excellent acidity. Owned by Bill Cole and his Chilean family, the Albamar winery specializes in cool climate varieties, producing wines that are crisp, clean and complex.

MELI

Meli Carignan: "Old vines planted in the 1960s, this takes a light, fresh approach, focused on fruit rather than pushing for superconcentration."

-Wine & Spirits Magazine

Maule Valley

Meli is the dream of celebrated winemaker Adriana Cerda and her son Eduardo Reinerio. Adriana has been a respected winemaker for 30 years, and one Chile's very first female winemakers. In 2005, the family bought a property with 60-year-old Carignan and Riesling vines in the Maule Valley and began with 500 cases of Riesling in 2005, followed by their first Carignan bottling in 2007. Meli's total production is currently 2,000 cases. All varieties are dry farmed and well-suited to the cooler coastal parts of the Maule Valley, where the growing season is long.

gran Verano

Gran Verano Chardonnay: "Pure in its varietal expression, rich in aromas of pineapple and candied citrus; soft and light." -Wine & Spirits Magazine

Gran Verano or "great summer" represents a new generation of premium 3-liter bag-in-box wine. The quality of the wine is a big leap up from most BIB wines, and the entire category is growing dramatically. The fruit is largely estate grown in the Colchagua Valley where warm summer days and cool summer nights allow the grapes to reach optimal maturation. High-quality, fruit-forward wines produced in the heart of Chile's wine country.

RICARDO SANTOS

Mendoza, Argentina

“There is a select group of Malbecs that do Argentina proud, Ricardo Santos Malbec is one of them.” -Wine Enthusiast

Ricardo Santos has demonstrated a life-long commitment to the Argentine wine tradition, particularly in regards to country’s great varietal, Malbec. As the former owner of the Norton Winery, Ricardo renounced a career in architecture to pursue his passion for winemaking with the belief that Argentina could produce wines equal to the best in the world. He was the first winemaker from Argentina over thirty years ago to export Malbec to the U.S. market. Santos and his wife Estela now share this vision with the family. His son, Patricio, is winemaker; another son, Pedro, is head of business and marketing.

MARICHAL

Canalones, Uruguay

Marichal is headed by winemakers Juan Andrés and Alejandro Marichal. They are a family-owned winery in Uruguay that was originally established in 1938 and they are now into their third and fourth generation of family winemaking. Uruguay has a strong history with the Tannat varietal, first planted by Basque immigrants. The Marichal vineyards are located at an ideal latitude in the department, or province, of Canelones (15 miles north of Uruguay's capitol, Montevideo) where the warm weather, cool Atlantic breezes and deep clay soil allow old varieties like Tannat to thrive and achieve unique character.
